Literary Non-fiction (Narrative, Creative)

Literary non-fiction is a type of writing which uses similar techniques as fiction to create an interesting piece of writing about real events. These techniques help to create non-fiction which is enjoyable and exciting to read. Some travel writing, autobiographies, or essays that consider a particular viewpoint are key examples of literary non-fiction. Their main purpose is to entertain while they inform about factual events or information.

Literary non-fiction texts include:

1. feature articles
2. essays
3. travel writing
4. accounts of famous events
5. sketches (normally a fact file profile that gives key information about a person, place or event)
6. autobiographies (where you write about yourself) or biographies (where someone else writes about you) - these texts may be written by sportspeople, politicians, celebrities or other people who aren't well-known

What are some Literary or Narrative Nonfiction techniques:

- Suspense
- Vivid sensory details
- Mood
- Characters we care about